| Nouveau-Brunswick  |                     |  |                   |  |
| Mount Allison University   |                     |  |                   |  |
| Bachelor of Arts, Major and Honours (Philosophy, Politics and Economics)  | New                 | MTA is proposing to offer a new (120ch) Bachelor of Arts, Major or Honours in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics. The program will require 66 credits for the Major and 84 credits for the Honours. The program is intended to offer students a multidisciplinary immersion in the problems of action and reflection that structure the human world.  | Stage II          | Pending response to AAC                              |
| St. Thomas University  |                     |  |                   |  |
| Bachelor of Arts, Honours/Major in Science and Technology Studies   | Modification        | The Science and Technology Studies (STS) program was established in 1996 and since then has offered students the opportunity to complete the equivalent of a Minor, Major, or Honours in STS under the umbrella of Interdisciplinary Studies. This proposal seeks approval to grant students a Major or Honours degree in STS for the work completed, rather than a BA in Interdisciplinary Studies.   | Stage II          | Approved with conditions (September 26, 2012)        |
| Bachelor of Arts, Communications & Public Policy  | New                 | The proposed program requires students to complete 36ch of Communications and Public Policy (COPP) courses and 24ch of courses in one of the following (five) interdisciplinary Focus Areas: Politics and Governance; Law and Justice; Social Policy and Social Justice; Science, Technology, and the Environment; and International Relations. The courses to support these Focus Areas are drawn from offerings in existing departments and programs at STU.   | Stage II          | Pending response to AAC                              |
| Bachelor of Arts, Honours in Native Studies   | New                 | Building on St. Thomas' existing major in Native Studies, the honours program will allow students to pursue advanced study in this area through an additional 12 credits of coursework and the completion of an honours thesis under faculty supervision. Students who complete the program will be qualified to apply to graduate programs in Native Studies and related disciplines.   | To be determined  | Stage I assessment in progress                       |
| Université de Moncton  |                     |  |                   |  |

| University of New Brunswick  |                     |  |                   |  |
| Addition of co-op to:Master of Engineering ( multiple programs )Master of Science in Engineering ( multiple programs )PhD in Engineering ( multiple programs )(UNB, Fredericton & Saint John) | Modification        | UNB is proposing to add a co-op option to its existing MEng/MScE/PhD (Engineering) programs. While co-op options are typically offered at the undergraduate level, this program is intended to provide a valuable opportunity for students at the graduate level. Upon completion, it is expected that students will have practical "real world" experience to accompany their intellectual knowledge. Ideally, students can link their research work with the practical work experience.  | To be determined  | Pending response from UNB                            |
| Bachelor of Business Administration with Concentration in Aviation (and another subject)(UNB, Fredericton)  | Modification        | Currently, UNBF offers a combined Concentration in Aviation and Operations Management. It is proposing to separate the two components so that: students will have the option of completing a Concentration in Aviation in parallel to any other existing BBA Concentration or Honours option. To obtain the Concentration, students must complete another Concentration or Honours in an area offered by the Faculty and complete a commercial flying license with a multi-engine IFR rating (currently available through UNB's College of Extended Learning in partnership with Capital Airways). | Stage II          | Withdrawn (August 22, 2012)                          |
| Name change:Geology to Earth Sciences (BSc, MSc, PhD)(UNB, Fredericton and Saint John)   | Modification        | UNB is proposing a name change from "Geology" to "Earth Sciences" in the Bachelor of Science, Master of Science, and PhD programs.   | Stage I           | Approved (August 14, 2012)                           |
| Name change and modification:Bachelor of Arts (Multimedia Studies) to Bachelor of Arts (Media Arts and Cultures)(UNB, Fredericton)   | Modification        | UNB is proposing to change the name of the program from a major in "Multimedia Studies" to a major in "Media Arts & Cultures." Moderate changes to program structure including changes to the overall number of credits required, the number and selection of upper and lower-level courses required, and the removal of interdisciplinary electives are also being proposed, along with the introduction of an option in Film Production.   | To be determined  | Pending response from the government                 |
| Master of Applied Computer Science(UNB, Fredericton & Saint John)   | New                 | The Master of Applied Computer Science will replace UNB's existing Master of Computer Science by report and provide an alternative for students who want to study at an advanced level without completing a thesis. Students will have the option of completing an individual project and/or an eight-month co-op work term in addition to a series of graduate and undergraduate courses.   | Stage II          | Pending consideration by the AAC at its next meeting |
| Master of Arts in English(UNB, Fredericton & Saint John)  | New                 | UNB is proposing to introduce a new, one-year Master of Arts in English to complement its existing two-year degree (which requires completion of a thesis). The one-year (12 month) program will consist of 7 academic seminars (21ch), a research methods course (6ch) and an Advanced Research Project (3ch).  | To be determined  | Stage I assessment in progress                       |

| PhD in English(UNB, Fredericton & Saint John)   | Modification                   | UNB is proposing to introduce an accelerated stream of its PhD in English for those who complete a proposed new 12-month MA in English (being assessed concurrent to the PhD). For the accelerated stream, students will complete 12ch fewer courses (a 6ch research methods course and 6ch in academic seminars) than is currently the case for the PhD; the remaining degree requirements remain the same: 9ch academic seminars, 3 comprehensive exams, 6ch teaching apprenticeship and the thesis. A language requirement is also identified for both streams.  | To be determined  | Stage I assessment in progress     |
| Yorkville University   |                                |   |                   |                                    |
| Master of Arts in Counselling Psychology(Submitted under the NBDGA)   | Assessment of Existing Program | Yorkville University offers a Master of Arts in Counselling Psychology that, according to the self-study provided by Yorkville, "delivers specialized and advanced knowledge in the theory and practice of professional counselling... [The program] is designed to provide advanced study for individuals who, for reasons of family or employment commitments, geographic isolation or physical disability, are unable to attend traditional university programs. The blended program consists of both online academic courses and field-based applied practicum activities within institutions located in the student's home region. The program consists of 48 study credits – 36 study credits in course work and 12 study credits allocated to practicum activities and a major case presentation." | NBDGA             | Pending consideration by the MPHEC |
| Nouvelle-Écosse  |                                |   |                   |                                    |
| Acadia University  |                                |   |                   |                                    |
| Integrated Bachelor of Music (Music Education) & Bachelor of Education  | New                            | Acadia is proposing to introduce an integrated Bachelor of Music (Music Education) and BEd program that would allow students to complete both degrees over five years, rather than the six years currently required to complete the degrees separately. The structure of the proposed program is similar to that of Acadia's existing BSc Mathematics and Statistics with Education program.  | To be determined  | Stage I assessment in progress     |
| Atlantic School of Theology  |                                |   |                   |                                    |

| Cape Breton University   |                                |   |                   |                                    |
| Bachelor of Arts, Concentration in French   | New                            | CBU is proposing to provide students the option to complete a (30 credit) Concentration in French within the three-year BA. Students complete courses in Language Acquisition, Literature and Culture; at least 12 credits must be completed at the 300-level or above. The program will normally take three-years of full-time study to complete.  | Stage II          | Approved(September 26, 2012)   |
| Bachelor of Arts Community Studies, Major in Music  | New                            | The proposed program would introduce a 48 credit Music major into the 4-year Bachelor of Arts in Community Studies (BACS) degree. The program, which specializes in tradition or tradition-based musics, is designed to give students knowledge of musical terms of reference and theory as well as an understanding of the relationship between music and society, while allowing them to explore various career options through BACS work placement courses. Through the core BACS courses, students also learn teamwork and collaboration skills.  | Stage II          | Pending response to AAC            |
| Dalhousie University   |                                |   |                   |                                    |

| Mount Saint Vincent University   |                                |   |                   |                                    |
| Bachelor of Business Administration with International option   | Modification                   | Students at Mount Saint Vincent University currently have the option of completing up to two terms of study abroad as part of their BBA. With the proposed modification, students will receive formal recognition for this component with the designation of "International Option" on their degree. To obtain the designation, students must also complete 2.0 units of internationally-focused courses in Business, Tourism or Economics, and 3.0 units of study in courses from the Specialization in Global Issues.   | To be determined  | Stage I assessment in progress     |
| Nova Scotia Agricultural College (Faculty of Agriculture at Dalhousie University as of September 1, 2012)  |                                |   |                   |                                    |
| Bachelor of Agriculture, Major in International Food Business(offered in partnership with CAH Dronnten University of Applied Sciences, The Netherlands) | New                            | The proposed Bachelor of Agriculture, Major in International Food Business, is a four-year, 120ch (module-based) dual degree offered by NSAC/DAL in partnership with CAH Dronnten University of Applied Sciences, The Netherlands. The program is designed to meet the needs of the agri-food industry by training graduates who understand the global food experience from a business perspective and who wish to work internationally. Following a one-week orientation in Iceland, students complete the first year at their home campus, second year at CAH Dronnten, third year at NSAC and fourth year at their home campus.  | Stage II          | Pending response to AAC            |
